

Campbell White

(757)818-1988 • 216 Talbot Hall Road, Norfolk, VA 23505 • whitec23@mail.wlu.edu

EDUCATION

Washington and Lee University

Expected May 2023

Bachelor of Arts, Sociology and Anthropology

Data Science & Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies minor

Lexington, VA

- Cumulative GPA: 3.93; Sociology and Anthropology GPA: 4.0
- President's List (Academic Years 2019-2020, 2020-2021)
- Relevant Courses: Poverty & Marginality in the Americas, Statistics for Social Science, Race and Racism in the Americas, Qualitative Methods

EXPERIENCE

Washington and Lee University Store

Year-round, Fall 2019-present

Student Staff

Lexington, VA

- Provide assistance in all store areas- sales, completing daily cleaning tasks, creating merchandise displays
- Trained to fulfill online orders- operating web services involving picking, processing, and shipping orders
- Advise younger student staff when a question or problem arises
- Maintain professional and friendly relationships with and full-time staff and assisted all customer needs

ForKids Nonprofit Organization

Summer 2022

Development Team Intern

Norfolk, VA

- Shadowed Data Analyst to observe how data is compiled, queried, and presented to other employees in a dashboard
- Initiated project assessing ForKids' revenue sources compared to other nonprofits of similar size and services to provide preliminary data analysis identifying potential avenues for increasing revenue
- Completed variety of tasks on-going and assigned daily- researching community outreach opportunities, generating ideas of potential new donors, creating information packets in Excel for largest fundraiser, providing front desk coverage

Rockbridge Area Relief Association

Fall 2021

Temporary Data Specialist/Intern (Remote)

Lexington, VA

- Cleaned and formatted client information data in preparation for import to Apricot database
- Utilized Microsoft Excel to organize and create datasets of relevant client information for different imports

James G. Leyburn Scholars Program in Anthropology

Summer 2021

Summer Research Student (Remote) under supervision of Professor Alison Bell

Norfolk, VA

- Conducted exploratory research on anthropological data set of former patients in Staunton's Western State Hospital
- Collected contextual research using online data bases- Ancestry.com and Find a Grave and analyzed quantitative data of different variables in Microsoft Excel
- Prepared academic poster to present at University Summer Research showcase

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

American Red Cross Club at Washington and Lee University

Fall 2020 - present

- Assisted with various fundraising events and blood drives; advertised events through social media

Washington and Lee yearbook- The Calyx

Fall 2020 - present

Calyx Staff Member

- Wrote short stories for events around campus and attended regular club meetings

Alpha Delta Pi sorority- Theta Zeta chapter

January 2020 - present

- Supported various philanthropy fundraisers and events benefitting the Ronald McDonald House charities
- Engaged with diversity and inclusion initiatives to promote a safe and welcoming environment for all members

SKILLS AND INTERESTS

Skills: Proficient in R, Stata, HTML, Microsoft Excel, PowerPoint, Word, Windows operating system

Interests: Involvement with school organizations and Lexington nonprofits, listening to podcasts, long walks, traveling